

INTERIOR DESIGN 1:1 CONSULTATIONS

Work with Oakley Moore's Founder & Creative Director, Kate Aslangul – the award-winning interior designer with over a decade of experience.

Our tailored consultations are designed to provide expert advice and practical support at any stage of your interior design project. Whether you're navigating a full renovation or simply need guidance on a single room, these sessions are an opportunity to gain clarity, direction, and confidence in your design decisions.

What to Expect:

During your consultation, you'll have the chance to share your decorating dilemmas in a supportive and collaborative setting – either via Zoom, in our London studio, or on-site. Clients often use these sessions to:
